Our Orthodox hymnology is a rich treasure which has yet to be fully discovered by the Faithful. Our hymnology, which teaches our minds and uplifts our hearts, should be studied by all of us who profess the Orthodox faith.

+ Father John C. Poulos
Let the people praise You, O God;
Let all the people praise You.

Psalm 67:3

Melodic material comes from traditional, original, and other various sources and has been adapted for use by church choirs and congregations. An effort was made to preserve melodies that are familiar to American Greek Orthodox Church choirs, with an effort to keep the melodies within the formulaic traditions of Byzantine music.
DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to the priests and hierarchs whom I, the author, have had the honor to serve, especially Fr. John Poulos, of blessed memory, who tapped me to be his chanter; His Grace Bishop Timothy of Detroit, of blessed memory, who asked me to translate Byzantine chant hymns into English; and Fr. Constantine Christo, who wanted well done English language music in the choir.

Many thanks also to Fr. Michael Varlamos for his loving support and counsel.

About This Book

This book, along with its Menaion, Triodion, and Pentecostarion hymnal companions (available for free at our website www.newbyz.org), represents a complete resource for Sunday worship in Greek Orthodox churches that employ both Greek and English with a mixed-voice choir. Within its covers, this book contains the complete Divine Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom with music in staff notation. The book also contains the eight Resurrectional apolytikia, the kontakion for normal Sundays, the substitutions for the Trisagion hymn, two Cherubic hymns, two megalynaria, including the megalynarion for the liturgy of St. Basil, hymns for the hierarchical liturgy, and hymns for the memorial and artoklasia services. All of the proper hymns of the day and all apolytikia, kontakia, megalynaria, and Communion hymns for every Sunday of every year are available at www.newbyz.org.

This book is for those parishes that use the new authorized text of the liturgy and the Resurrectional apolytikia. There is also available a two-part chant version with this text allowing complete liturgies in both Plagal Fourth and Plagal First Tones. Our original Divine Liturgy books with the Holy Cross text by N. Vaporis and hymn texts by N. Takis, are still available at www.newbyz.org and are fully supported.

The authors had several goals in mind in creating staff-notated Orthodox Church music, which include the following points:

♦ To create music for lay choirs that is more in line with the traditional musical rubrics of the Greek Orthodox Church, but easier for Western-trained musicians to perform.
♦ To create music that enhances the words of Orthodox liturgical texts as an aid in prayer, both in Greek and English.
♦ To create sheet music and books that would make bilingual Greek-English liturgies easy to perform, thus allowing full congregational worship.
♦ To create liturgical music that could be used by ensembles of all sizes, all ages of the singers, and all voice combinations.
♦ To create liturgical music that could be performed easily with or without organ accompaniment in all locations and settings, taking pitches from the chanting of the priest or deacon or from a pitch pipe.
♦ To educate lay choirs in the history of the Divine Liturgy and in the practices of appointed chanters, since lay choirs take the role of appointed chanters whenever they perform a service.
♦ To make it easy to adapt each liturgy or other service to the date and purpose for which it is performed with companion materials that contain all of the options that are encountered in every situation.

These liturgical settings are intended to offer to our lay choirs another resource with which they may serve their clergy and congregations. We believe the material offered on www.newbyz.org can be useful to Orthodox Christian parishes and to the Church musicians that donate their time and talents to them.

— The Publishers
Orthodox hymnology has its earliest roots in the Jewish synagogue. The first Christians were practicing Jews with an established tradition of worship. The earliest Christian songs were most certainly from the Hebrew scriptures. Psalms and canticles from the Old Testament still form the basis of many Orthodox liturgical hymns. In the early Church, these songs were chanted by the congregation, which was often led by a solo cantor. The Church developed the practice of inserting non-scriptural refrains (tropes) in between verses of scripture, including verses from the New Testament. These troparia came in many forms, and were used to make commentary and reinforcement of the meaning of the texts of the verses. The troparia were the main contribution of Christian poets and theologians, many of whom have become saints of the Church. Later, other hymn forms which have a presence in the Divine Liturgy were established, such as the kontakion, the processional hymns, the canon, and the megalynaria. The Liturgy evolved over time, but it has remained essentially consistent from the time of St. Basil and St. John Chrysostom, who edited the text as it is used today.

The Octoechos: The Orthodox System of Music

It is generally accepted that harmonized music and organ accompaniment, as practiced today, was unknown to the ancients. It is certain that the original hymns of the Church were chanted monophonically. Ancient music possessed a number of musical modes, which consisted of various scales, tunings, and melodic formulas. The different modes varied in their ethical character. St. John of Damascus is traditionally credited with codifying, in the Eighth Century, a system of eight modes, the Octoechos, for use by the Church on a weekly rotating basis. These consisted of four authentic modes and their Plagal variations. These modes have come to be referred to also as tones, from the Greek word, echos, meaning an aural tone. The First Tone and its Plagal version are what modern musicians would consider minor in character. The Second Tone is pitched on a central note and is declamatory in style. The Plagal Second Tone often employs the distinctive chromatic scale, with its unusual intervals. The Third Tone and its Plagal form have the feel of music in a major scale, as does the Plagal form of the Fourth Tone. The Fourth Tone itself, is neither major nor minor, but has a tonal center not normally used in modern music. These different modes were selected because they were considered to contain qualities which effectively conveyed and enhanced the texts. Later, variations of these basic modes were added to the system for several reasons. Over time, these modes have taken on a two-part character which adds a second voice (often called the ison) that drones on the tonal center of the mode against the monophonic melody.

Polyphonic harmonized music is a later addition to the Divine Liturgy. Although it first appeared in some Orthodox jurisdictions perhaps as early as the 16th Century or earlier, it did not make its entrance into the Greek Church until the 19th Century. Today, it is widely used in America and in European Orthodox churches. Harmonization, although having its own unique aesthetics, tends to change the tonal and emotional qualities of the original eight modes and their variants.

The Divine Liturgy

The Divine Liturgy is the central worship service of the Orthodox Church. It accompanies the sacrament of Holy Communion. In public churches, it is always practiced on Sunday mornings, the day which commemorates the Resurrection of Christ, and on some other calendar days of the Church. The practice of Communion was instituted by Christ himself and perpetuated by his disciples. Rubrics and rituals became established to help sanctify the faithful that they might be well-prepared to receive the sacrament worthily, and this remains today as the main function of the Liturgy.

The Divine Liturgy differs in structure from the Vespers (evening) and Orthros (morning) services that precede it. Whereas Vespers and Orthros are a part of the daily cycle of hourly services all Orthodox Christians may observe, the Liturgy is a sacramental service that requires the presence of an ordained minister of the Church. It takes the form of a chanted dialogue with roles given to the bishop (if present), the priest, the deacon (if present), and the people. In the earliest Christian services, all of the people in the congregation actively participated in chanting with the assistance of lead musicians. The 15th canon of Council of Laodicea limits chanting to appointed singers who read from a book, and in some places, this was interpreted to mean congregations should never chant aloud. However, today there is general agreement that congregations should actively participate in the music of the Divine Liturgy, especially in the responses and more musically simple hymns.

It is generally agreed that the Divine Liturgy was originally a shorter service than it is today, and that, over time, various segments were added to it. It can be divided into two parts. The first part is the liturgy of the catechumens, which was an educational and preparatory exercise for believers and potential believers—catechumens—who were learning the faith. In this part of the liturgy, there are litanies, psalms, daily commemorations, processions, scripture readings, and a homily. In the second part, the liturgy of the faithful, the catechumens are excused, and the faithful reaffirm their Creed. The holy offering of bread and wine is changed by the Holy Spirit into the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ. The Theotokos, Mary, the mother of Our Lord, is magnified (honored), more prayers and petitions are given, and the faithful then reverently receive the sacrament. This is followed by a dismissal.
The Litanies and Antiphons

The last part of the Orthros service is the Great Doxology. The Liturgy begins immediately afterwards with the Great Litany, a list of prayers offered to God by the priest or deacon, each of which are punctuated by a response of the people, “Lord, have mercy.” The litany is followed by a series of Psalm readings, the so-called Typica, the first two of which have been interspersed with the troparia, “Through the intercessions” (Tεσ Presvies) and “O Son of God, save us” (Σοσον Ινμας). They are referred to as antiphons because they originally were chanted antiphonally by two groups of chanters. It is a composed hymn that does not have a designated melodic model. Its origin depends upon which Divine Liturgy is performed, with each being assigned a specific model melody and mode, which may be used by other hymns as well. However, through the course of history, situations arose within the services of the Church where the music took on greater importance in order to elongate timing of the hymns for various reasons. Newer, longer, more melodious modes of the troparia were added to each tonal family of the Octoechos for these styles of hymns. These hymns do not follow set melodies, but mostly fall into the category of original, although they do follow rules established for these newer modes.

Processional Hymns were a later addition to the Divine Liturgy and fall into the category of these longer hymns. The Trisagion hymn and the Cherubic hymn make up these processions, and are vestiges of a time when the Holy Scriptures and the Holy Gifts were stored in a building outside of the church itself and were fetched with great pomp and ceremony as isodika (entrances). The style of music of these two hymns is referred to as papadic, because the priest has many tasks to perform while they are being chanted. Papadic hymns are musically complex and are the most difficult ones to perform by the assigned chanters and require the greatest amount of musical artistry.

The Holy Offering, Consecration, and Megalynarion

The central part of the Divine Liturgy is the Anaphora, where the Holy Gifts are offered to the Lord, consecrated, and changed into the Body and Blood of the Savior. The hymns of this section revert to the category of responses, except for the Victory Hymn, in which the chanters sing the angelic “Holy, Holy, Holy.” In fact, research has suggested that the so-called consecration hymn, “With Hymns We Praise You,” (Sί Ινμονεμ), is a completion of the priest’s previous petition, and was originally chanted simply on a single pitch. Since then, it has become elongated.

The megalynarion, which follows the consecration, is a hymn that magnifies the Virgin Mary. Being a later addition, it is a composed hymn that does not have a designated melodic model. Its origin depends upon which Divine Liturgy is being chanted on a particular day. If it is the Divine Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom, “Truly It is Right” (Aξιον Εστι) is the megalynarion. This hymn’s origin was in a revelation to a monk on Mt. Athos. In the Liturgy of St. Basil, the megalynarion is “In You Rejoices” (Επί Σί Τερέτι), which comes from a hymn in the Plagal Fourth Tone Orthros service. On major feast days, the megalynarion is from the ninth ode katavasia of the Orthros kanon of the feast.

The Communion Hymn and Dismissal

The Communion hymn, chanted during the preparation and distribution of the sacrament, is often papadic. However, since it is from a Biblical psalm or other scripture, it is sometimes chanted as an antiphon in the form a troparion, interspersed with verses from the scriptural passage from where the hymn’s text originates. The Divine Liturgy then ends with a short dismissal service of thanksgiving, blessings, and veneration of the saints and celebrations of the day.

TO TRIPTON ANTIPHON

The People chant the “Ἀμήν” or “Amen” in the key of the apolytikion of the day, then intone the verse (Psalm 118:24 on Sundays) and sing the apolytikion. See pp. 10-24 for the Sunday Resurrectional apolytikia. On weekdays and feasts of the Lord, do not chant Resurrectional apolytikia. Consult www.newbyz.org or other source for the verse and apolytikion of the day.

After the Apolytikion of the day is chanted, the Small Entrance Hymn on page 9 follows. The entrance hymn text may differ on certain feasts. Consult www.newbyz.org for the correct entrance hymn. After the Small Entrance, the apolytikion of the day is repeated, followed by other designated apolytikia, if present, the church hymn, and the kontakion. See pp. 25-27.

Master, Lord our God, Who has established the orders and hosts of angels and archangels in heaven to minister to Your glory, grant that holy angels may enter with us, that together we may celebrate and glorify Your goodness. For to You belong all glory, honor, and worship, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

In many churches, the priest chants the Small Entrance hymn. In others, the priest chants it until the last phrase, which is completed by the chanter or choir. And in some churches, the choir is designated to chant the entire hymn. As already noted, on weekdays and certain feasts, the text of this hymn differs. See www.newbyz.org for the other Small Entrance hymns.

This is the day that the Lord has made; let us be glad and rejoice in it.

Although the stone was sealed by the Jews, and the soldiers guarded Your most pure body, You arose on the third day, O Savior, giving life to the world. For this reason, the heavenly powers cried out to you, O Giver of Life:

Glory to Your resurrection, O Christ! Glory to Your kingdom!

NOTE: On normal Sundays the Trisagion (Thrice-Holy) Hymn (pp. 28-29) is chanted here. On feasts of the Holy Cross, the processional hymn, Των Σταυρον Σου - “Before Your Cross,” (pp. 30-31) is substituted for the Trisagion Hymn. On the Nativity of Christ, Theophany, Lazarus Saturday, Pascha, Bright Week, and Pentecost, the processional hymn Οσοι εις Χριστον - “As Many of You,” (pp. 32-33) is substituted for the Trisagion. When a hierarch is celebrating the Divine Liturgy, a more elaborate Trisagion Hymn (pp. 34-35) is chanted, which is then followed by the chant, “Lord, save the righteous,” and then by the hymns (fimi) of the hierarchy (pp. 36-37).

Let us pray to the Lord.

O Holy God, Who is resting among the holy ones, praised by the seraphim with the thrice-holy voice, glorified by the cherubim, and worshiped by every celestial power, You have brought all things into being out of nothing. You have created man according to Your image and likeness and adorned him with all the gifts of Your grace. You give wisdom and understanding to the one who asks, and You overlook not the sinner, but have set repentance as the way of salvation. You have granted us, Your humble and unworthy servants, to stand even at this hour before the glory of Your holy Altar of sacrifice and to offer to You due worship and praise. Master, accept the Trisagion Hymn also from the lips of us sinners, and visit us in Your goodness. Forgive all our voluntary and involuntary transgressions, sanctify our souls and bodies, and grant that we may worship You in holiness all the days of our lives, through the intercessions of the holy Theotokos and of all the saints who have pleased You throughout the ages.

For You, our God, are holy, and to You we offer up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and forever…

…and to the ages of ages.

Amen.

SUPPLICATION OF THE FAITHFUL

Again and again, in peace, let all of us, the faithful, pray to the Lord.

Lord, have mercy.

Help us, save us, have mercy on us, and protect us, O God, by Your grace.

Wisdom.

We give thanks to You, O Lord God of Hosts, Who have made us worthy to stand even now before Your holy Altar of sacrifice and to fall down before Your compassion on account of our sins and the ignorance of Your people. Accept, O God, our supplication. Make us worthy to offer You prayers, supplications, and bloodless sacrifices for all Your people. By the power of Your Holy Spirit, make us, whom You have appointed to this, Your ministry, free of blame or stumbling and, with the witness of a clear conscience, able to call upon You at every time and in every place, so that, hearing us, You may be merciful to us in the abundance of Your goodness.
The Cherubic Hymn begins. See pp. 43-48.)
During the singing of the Cherubic hymn, the following prayers are said.)

No one bound by carnal desires and pleasures is worthy to approach, draw near, or minister to You, the King of Glory. For to serve You is great and awesome even for the heavenly powers. Yet, because of Your ineffable and immeasurable love for mankind, You impassibly and immutably became man. You, as the Master of all, became our high priest and delivered unto us the sacred service of this liturgical sacrifice without the shedding of blood.

Indeed, Lord our God, You alone reign over the celestial and the terrestrial; borne aloft on the cherubic throne, Lord of the seraphim and King of Israel, the only holy and resting among the holy ones. I now beseech You, Who alone are good and inclined to hear: Look down upon me, Your sinful and unprofitable servant, and cleanse my soul and heart of a wicked conscience; and enable me, by the power of Your Holy Spirit, clothed with the grace of the priesthood, to stand before Your holy Table and celebrate the Mystery of Your holy and pure Body and Your precious Blood.

I come before You with my head bowed, and I implore You: Turn not Your face away from me, nor reject me from among Your children, but make me, Your sinful and unworthy servant, worthy to offer these gifts to You. For You are the One Who both offers and is offered, the One Who is received and is distributed, O Christ our God, and to You we ascribe glory, with Your Father, Who is without beginning, and Your all-holy and good and life-creating Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.

Blessed is our God always, now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.

May God have mercy upon me, the sinner, and save me.

Brethren forgive me.

In peace, lift up your hands to the sanctuary, and bless the Lord.

That the whole day may be perfect, holy, peaceful, and sinless, let us ask the Lord.

That the whole day may be perfect, holy, peaceful, and sinless, let us ask the Lord.

For an angel of peace, a faithful guide, a guardian of our souls and bodies, let us ask the Lord.

For pardon and remission of our sins and transgressions, let us ask the Lord.

For that which is good and beneficial for our souls, and for peace for the world, let us ask the Lord.

That we may complete the remaining time of our life in peace and repentance, let us ask the Lord.
Lord God Almighty, You alone are holy. You accept the sacrifice of praise from those who call upon You with their whole heart, even so, accept from us sinners our supplication, and bring it to Your holy Altar of sacrifice. Enable us to offer You gifts and spiritual sacrifices for our own sins and the failings of Your people. Deem us worthy to find grace in Your sight, that our sacrifice may be well pleasing to You, and that the good Spirit of Your grace may rest upon us and upon these gifts presented and upon all Your people.

Through the mercies of Your only begotten Son, with Whom You are blessed, together with Your all-holy, good, and life-creating Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.
ΠΑΤΕΡΑ, ΥΙΟΝ, ΚΑΙ ΑΓΙΟΝ ΠΝΕΥΜΑ

THE FATHER AND SON AND HOLY SPIRIT

(If more than one clergy preside, they say the following prayer.)

Ἐιρήνη πᾶσι.

Πατέρα, Υιόν, καὶ Αγιόν Πνεῦμα, Τρινθίτον.

Fa ther, Son, and Ho ly Spi rit: Tri nity one in es sence and un div i ded.

And with your Spir-it.

Let us love one another, that with oneness of mind we may confess:
Πιστεύω εἰς ἑνα Θεόν, Πατέρα παντοκράτορα, ποιητὴν οὐρανοῦ καὶ γῆς, ὀρατῶν τε πάντων καὶ ἀοράτων.

Καὶ εἰς ἑνα Κύριον Ἰησοῦν Χριστόν, τὸν Υἱόν τοῦ Θεοῦ τὸν μονογενῆ, τὸν ἐκ τοῦ Πατρὸς γεννηθέντα πρὸ πάντων τῶν αἰώνων.

Φῶς ἐκ φωτός, Θεὸν ἀληθινὸν ἐκ Θεοῦ ἀληθινοῦ, γεννηθέντα οὐ ποιηθέντα, ὁμοούσιον τῷ Πατρὶ, δι’ οὗ τὰ πάντα ἐγένετο.

Τὸν δὲ ἡμᾶς τοὺς ἀνθρώπους καὶ διὰ τὴν ἡμετέραν σωτηρίαν κατελθόντα ἐκ τῶν οὐρανῶν καὶ σαρκωθέντα ἐκ Πνεύματος Ἁγίου καὶ Μαρίας τῆς παρθένου καὶ ἑνανθρωπησάντα.

Σταυρωθέντα τε ὑπὲρ ἡμῶν ἐπὶ Ποντίου Πιλάτου καὶ παθόντα καὶ ταφέντα.

Καὶ ἀναστάντα τῇ τρίτῃ ἡμέρᾳ, κατὰ τὰς Γραφὰς. Καὶ ἀνελθόντα εἰς τοὺς οὐρανοὺς καὶ καθεζόμενον ἐκ δεξιῶν τοῦ Πατρὸς.

Καὶ πάλιν ἐρχόμενον μετὰ δόξης κρίναι ζωντανείς καὶ νεκροὺς, οὗ τῆς βασιλείας ὁυκ ἐστιν τέλος.

Καὶ εἰς τὸ Πνεῦμα τὸ Ἁγίου, τὸ κύριον, τὸ ζωοποιόν, τὸ ἐκ τοῦ Πατρὸς ἐκπορευόμενον, τὸ σὺν Πατρὶ καὶ Υἱῷ συμπροσκυνούμενον καὶ συνδόξαζόμενον, τὸ λαλήσαν διὰ τῶν προφητῶν.

Εἰς μίαν, ἀγίαν, καθολικὴν καὶ ἀποστολικὴν Ἐκκλησίαν. Ὄμοιον δὲν βάπτισμα εἰς ἀφεσίν ἀμαρτιῶν. Προσδοκῶ ἀνάστασιν νεκρῶν, καὶ ζωὴν τοῦ Μέλλοντος αἰῶνος. Ἅμην.
We lift them up to the Lord.

Let us stand aright! Let us stand in awe! Let us be attentive, that we may present the Holy Offering in peace.

A mercy of peace, a sacrifice of praise.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God the Father, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

And with your spirit.

Let us lift up our hearts.

We lift them up to the Lord.

Let us give thanks to the Lord.

It is proper and right to hymn You, to bless You, to praise You, to give thanks to You, and to worship You in every place of Your dominion. You, O God, are ineffable, inconceivable, invisible, incomprehensible, existing forever, forever the same, You and Your only begotten Son and Your Holy Spirit. You brought us out of nothing into being, and when we had fallen away, You raised us up again. You left nothing undone until You had led us up to heaven and granted us Your Kingdom, which is to come.

Let us give thanks to the Lord.
O ΕΠΙΝΙΚΙΟΣ ΥΜΝΟΣ

Σinging the triumphal hymn, exclaiming, proclaiming, and saying:

THE TRIUMPHAL HYMN

Holy, holy, holy, Lord Sabaoth, heaven and earth are filled with Your glory. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.
Together with these blessed powers, Master, Who loves mankind, we also exclaim and say: Holy are You and most holy, You and Your only begotten Son and Your Holy Spirit. Holy are You and most holy, and sublime is Your glory. You so loved Your world that You gave Your only begotten Son so that everyone who believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life. When He had come and fulfilled for our sake the entire plan of salvation, on the night in which He was delivered up, or rather when He delivered Himself up for the life of the world, He took bread in His holy, pure, and blameless hands, and, giving thanks and blessing, He hallowed and broke it, and gave it to His holy disciples and apostles, saying:

Take, eat, this is My Body, which is broken for you for the remission of sins.

Likewise, after partaking of the supper, He took the cup, saying:

Drink of this, all of you; this is My Blood of the new covenant, which is shed for you and for many for the remission of sins.

Remembering, therefore, this saving commandment and all that has been done for our sake: the Cross, the tomb, the Resurrection on the third day, the Ascension into heaven, the enthronement at the right hand, and the second and glorious coming again.

Your own of Your own we offer to You, in all and for all.
We praise You, we bless You, we give thanks to You, and we pray to You, Lord our God.

Once again we offer to You this spiritual worship without the shedding of blood, and we beseech and pray and entreat You: Send down Your Holy Spirit upon us and upon the gifts here presented and make this bread the precious Body of Your Christ.

Amen.

And that which is in this cup, the precious Blood of Your Christ.

Amen.

Changing them by Your Holy Spirit.

So that they may be for those who partake of them for vigilance of soul, remission of sins, communion of Your Holy Spirit, fullness of the Kingdom of Heaven, boldness before You, not for judgment or condemnation. Again, we offer You this spiritual worship for those who have reposed in the faith: forefathers, fathers, patriarchs, prophets, apostles, preachers, evangelists, martyrs, confessors, ascetics, and for every righteous spirit made perfect in faith...
MEΓΑΛΑΝΑΡΙΟΝ

(On certain feasts the megalynarion of the day is substituted here. The megalynarion of the St. Basil Liturgy, “Επί σοι χαίρει,” is on p. 60.)

Ἐξαιρέτως τῆς παναγίας, ἀχράντου, ύπερευλογημένης, ἐνδόξου, δεσποίνης ἡμῶν Θεοτόκου καὶ ἀειπαρθένου Μαρίας.
Especially for our most holy, pure, blessed, and glorious Lady, the Theotokos and ever-virgin Mary.

MEGALYNARION

(On certain feasts the megalynarion of the day is substituted here. The megalynarion of the St. Basil Liturgy, "In You Rejoices," is on p. 61.)

It is truly right to bless you, Theotokos, ever-blessed, most pure, and ever-virgin Mary.

Mother of our God. More honorable than the Seraphim, without corruption you gave birth to God the Logos. We magnify you, the true Theotokos.
Επί σοι χαίρει, Κε-χα-ριτω-μέ-νη, πᾶ-σα ή κτί-σις, Ἀγ-γέ-λων τὸ σύ-στη-μα,

In you rejoice, Maiden who are full of grace, all creation, the ranks of angelic hosts, and the lineage of mankind. A temple sanctified, and a paradise of the mind, you are the boast of the chaste, from whom our God was incarnate and became a new-born child, yet He is God before time, unto every age. For He has made your pure womb to be His throne; wider He has made you than the heavens; without end He has fashioned you.

In you rejoice, Maiden who are full of grace, all of creation. Glory to you!

For Saint John the prophet, forerunner, and baptist; for the holy, glorious, and most praiseworthy apostles; for Saint(s) (Name), whose memory we celebrate; and for all Your saints, through whose supplications, visit us, O God. And remember all who have fallen asleep in the hope of the resurrection to life eternal (here the Priest commemorates by name those who have fallen asleep). Grant them rest, O our God, where the light of Your countenance keeps watch. Again we beseech You, Lord, remember all Orthodox bishops who rightly teach the word of Your truth, the presbyterate, the diaconate in Christ, and every priestly and monastic order. Again we offer You this spiritual worship for the whole world, for the holy, catholic, and apostolic Church, and for those living pure and reverent lives. For civil authorities and our armed forces, grant that they may govern in peace, Lord, so that in their tranquility we, too, may live calm and serene lives, in all piety and virtue.

And remember those whom each one of us has in mind, and all people.

Remember, Lord, this city in which we live, and every city and land, and the faithful who live in them. Remember, Lord, those who travel by land, sea, and air; the sick; the suffering; the captives; and their salvation. Remember those who bear fruit and do good works in Your holy churches and those who are mindful of the poor, and upon us all send forth Your mercies.
And grant that with one voice and one heart we may glorify and praise Your most honorable and majestic name, of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

And the mercies of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ, be with you all.

Having commemorated all the saints, again and again, in peace, let us pray to the Lord.

For the precious Gifts here presented and consecrated, let us pray to the Lord.

That our God Who loves mankind, having accepted them at His holy and celestial and mystical altar as a savor of spiritual fragrance, may in return send down upon us divine grace and the gift of the Holy Spirit, let us pray.

(For the nine petitions that are often omitted here, go to p. 82.)
Having asked for the unity of the faith and for the communion of the Holy Spirit, let us commend ourselves and one another and our whole life to Christ our God.

We entrust to You, loving Master, our whole life and hope, and we beseech, pray, and implore You: Grant us to partake of Your heavenly and awesome Mysteries from this sacred and spiritual table with a clear conscience for the remission of sins, the forgiveness of transgressions, the communion of the Holy Spirit, the inheritance of the Kingdom of Heaven, and boldness before You, not unto judgment or condemnation.

And grant us, Master, with boldness and without condemnation, to dare call You, the heavenly God, Father, and to say:

THE LORD’S PRAYER

(All participants of the Divine Liturgy say aloud together the following.)

Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name,
Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For Thine is the Kingdom and the power and the glory, of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

ΚΥΡΙΑΚΗ ΠΡΟΣΕΥΧΗ

(All participants of the Divine Liturgy say aloud together the following.)

Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name,
Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For Thine is the Kingdom and the power and the glory, of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.
To You, O Lord

Peace be with all.

Let us bow our heads to the Lord.

We give thanks to You, invisible King, Who by Your boundless power fashioned the universe, and in the multitude of Your mercy brought all things from nothing into being. Look down from heaven, O Master, upon those who have bowed their heads before You; for they have not bowed before flesh and blood, but before You, the awesome God. Therefore, O Master, may these Gifts here offered benefit all of us according to the need of each: Sail with those who sail; travel with those who travel; heal the sick, Physician of our souls and bodies.

Through the grace, compassion, and love for mankind of Your only begotten Son, with whom You are blessed, together with Your all-holy, good, and life-creating Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

Hearken, O Lord Jesus Christ, our God, from Your holy dwelling place and from the throne of glory of Your Kingdom, and come to sanctify us, You Who are enthroned with the Father on high and are present among us invisibly here. And with Your mighty hand, grant Communion of Your most pure Body and precious Blood to us, and through us to all the people.

O God, show favor to me, a sinner, and have mercy on me. (3x) Πρόσχωμεν. Τὰ Ἁγία τοῖς ἁγίοις.

Let us be attentive! The Holy Gifts for the holy people of God.

One is Holy, One is Lord,

Je - sus Christ, to the glo-ray of God, the Fa - ther. Á - men.

(The Communion Hymn begins. The standard hymn for most Sundays is on page 67. On weekdays and special feasts, a different Communion Hymn is designated. These are available at www.newbyz.org.)

The Lamb of God is apportioned and distributed; apportioned, but not divided; ever eaten, yet never consumed; but sanctifying those who partake.

Blessed is the fervor of Your saints, now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.

The fervor of the Holy Spirit. Amen. Behold, I approach Christ, our immortal King and God. Unto me, (Name), the unworthy presbyter, is imparted the precious and all-holy Body of our Lord and God and Savior, Jesus Christ, for the remission of my sins and life eternal.

Again unto me, (Name), the unworthy presbyter, is imparted the precious and all-holy and life-giving Blood of our Lord and God and Savior, Jesus Christ, for the remission of my sins and life eternal.

This has touched my lips, and the Lord takes away all my iniquities and cleanses my sins.
(Repeat the above hymn until the priest emerges from the altar with the chalice. The following verses from Psalm 148, LXX, are traditionally inserted after each refrain of the hymn at the fermatas [ ].

For festal Communion hymns, different verses from the psalm of the hymn are inserted.)

1. Praise him, all his angels: praise him, all his hosts.
2. Praise him, sun and moon: praise him, all you stars of light.
3. Praise him, you heavens of heavens, and you waters that be above the heavens.
4. Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.
5. Kings of the earth, and all people, princes, and all judges of the earth:
6. Both young men, and maidens: old men and children:
7. Let them praise the name of the Lord, for his name alone is exalted.
(As the people receive the sacrament, the following hymn may be chanted, although it is a relatively recent practice. Traditionally, the Communion Hymn is chanted throughout the distribution of the Holy Gifts.)

Third Time: Ἄ-γι-ε (A-ghi-e)

(When the Communion is completed, continue on p. 70.)
O Son of God, receive me today as a partaker of Your mystical supper, for I will not speak of the mystery to Your enemies, nor will I give You a kiss as did Judas. But like the thief, I confess to You: Remember me, O Lord, in Your kingdom. Remember me, O Master, in Your Kingdom. Remember me, O Holy One, in Your Kingdom.

(When the Communion is completed, continue on p. 70.)
We have seen the true light, we have received the heavenly Spirit, we have found the true faith, worshipping the undivided Trinity, for the Trinitv has saved us.

Save, O God, Your people, and bless Your inheritance.

We have been washed by Your Holy Blood, the sins of Your servants here remembered through the intercessions of the Theotokos and all Your saints. Amen.

Be exalted, O God, above the heavens, and let Your glory be over all the earth. (3x)

Blessed is our God...

...always, now and forever, and to the ages of ages.

Amen.
(The hymn below is frequently omitted.)

ΠΛΗΡΩΘΗΣ ΤΟ ΣΤΟΜΑ ΗΜΩΝ

Keep us in Your sanctification, that all day long we may meditate on Your righteousness. Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

LET OUR MOUTHS BE FILLED

Let our mouths be filled with Your praise, O Lord, that we may sing of Your glory, because You have made us worthy to partake of Your Holy Mysteries.

Keep us in Your sanctification, that all day long we may meditate on Your righteousness. Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

Christ Our God, You are the fulfillment of the Law and the Prophets. You have fulfilled the Father’s entire plan of salvation. Fill our hearts with joy and gladness always, now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.
(In some churches a memorial or artoklasia service may be inserted here. Hymns are on pp. 76-78.)

Let us pray to the Lord.

May the blessing of the Lord and His mercy come upon you by His divine grace and love for mankind, always, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

Glory to You, O God, glory to You. May He Who rose from the dead, Christ our true God, through the intercessions of His all-pure and all-immaculate holy Mother; the power of the precious and life-giving Cross; the protection of the honorable, bodiless powers of heaven; the supplications of the honorable, glorious prophet and forerunner John the Baptist; of the holy, glorious, and praiseworthy apostles; of the holy, glorious, and triumphant martyrs; of our righteous and God-bearing fathers; of (name of the saint of the church); of our father among the saints, John Chrysostom, archbishop of Constantinople; of the holy and righteous ancestors of God Joachim and Anna; of (saint of the day), whose memory we celebrate today; and of all the saints; have mercy on us and save us, for He is good and loves mankind.

Lord, have mer - cy. Lord, have mer - cy.

(The people respond to each of the of the following petitions with the above response.)

Let us all say with all our soul and with all our mind, let us all say:

Lord almighty, God of our fathers, we pray You,
hear us and have mercy.

Have mercy on us, O God, according to Your great mercy, we pray You, hear us and have mercy.

Again we pray for our Archbishop (Name).

Again we pray for our brethren: the priests, the hieromons, the deacons, the monastics, and all our brotherhood in Christ.

Again we pray for mercy, life, peace, health, salvation, protection, forgiveness, and remission of the sins of the servants of God, all pious Orthodox Christians residing and visiting in this city: the parishioners, the members of the parish council, the stewards, and benefactors of this holy church.

Again we pray for the blessed and ever-memorable founders of this holy church, and for all our fathers and brethren who have fallen asleep before us, who here have been piously laid to their rest, as well as the Orthodox everywhere.

PRAYERS FOR THE CATECHUMENS
Ετι δεόμεθα ὑπὲρ τῶν καρποφορούντων καὶ καλλιεργούντων ἐν τῷ ἁγίῳ καὶ πανσέπτῳ ναῷ τούτῳ, κοπιώντων, ψαλλόντων καὶ ὑπὲρ τοῦ περιεστῶτος λαοῦ, τοῦ ἀπεκδεχομένου τὸ παρὰ σοῦ μέγα καὶ πλούσιον ἔλεος.

Κύριε ὁ Θεός ἡμῶν, τὴν ἐκτενὴ ταύτην ἱκεσίαν πρόσδεξαι παρὰ τῶν σῶν δούλων καὶ ἔλεησον ἡμᾶς κατὰ τὸ πλήθος τοῦ ἔλεους σου· καὶ τοὺς οἰκτιρμοὺς σου κατάπεμψον ἐφ’ ἡμᾶς καὶ ἐπὶ πάντα τὸν λαόν σου, τὸν ἀπεκδεχόμενον τὸ παρὰ σοῦ μέγα καὶ πλούσιον ἔλεος.

Ὁ λαὸς μεθ’ ἑκάστην αἰτησιν Ἐτι δεόμεθα ὑπὲρ τῶν καρποφορούντων καὶ καλλιεργούντων ἐν τῷ ἁγίῳ καὶ πανσέπτῳ ναῷ τούτῳ, κοπιώντων, ψαλλόντων καὶ ὑπὲρ τοῦ περιεστῶτος λαοῦ, τοῦ ἀπεκδεχομένου τὸ παρὰ σοῦ μέγα καὶ πλούσιον ἔλεος.

κατηχούμενοι τῷ Κυρίῳ.

Again we pray for those who bear fruit and do good works in this holy and all-venerable church, for those who labor and those who sing; and for the people here present who await Your great and rich mercy.

Lord our God, accept this fervent supplication from Your servants, and have mercy on us in accordance with the abundance of Your mercy, and send down Your compassion upon us and upon all Your people who await Your great and rich mercy.

For You are a merciful God Who loves mankind, and to You we offer up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

Catechumens, pray to the Lord.

Let us, the faithful, pray for the catechumens.

That the Lord will have mercy on them.

That He will teach them the word of truth.

That He will reveal to them the gospel of righteousness.

That He will unite them to His holy, catholic, and apostolic Church.

Save them, have mercy on them, help them, and protect them, O God, by Your grace.

Catechumens, bow your heads to the Lord.
Lord our God, Who dwells on high and watches over the humble, You sent forth Your only begotten Son and God, our Lord Jesus Christ, for the salvation of the human race. Look down upon Your servants, the catechumens, who have inclined their necks to You, and grant them at a proper time the baptism of rebirth, the remission of sins, and the garment of incorruption. Unite them to Your holy, catholic, and apostolic Church, and number them among Your chosen flock.

So that with us they also may glorify Your most honorable and majestic name, of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and forever and to the ages of ages.

Those who are catechumens, depart; catechumens depart; all those who are catechumens, depart. Let none of the catechumens remain.

Grant this, O Lord.

PRONUNCIATION GUIDE TO GREEK PHONETICS

All music in this book has a phonetic transliteration beneath the Greek texts. The English alphabet is used, and consonants are pronounced as they are in English with the exception of the gutteral $g$ which is represented by $\text{gh}$, the voiced $th$ which is represented by $\text{dh}$, and the gutteral $k$, represented by $\text{ch}$. (The English $ch$ blend does not exist in Greek). The five Greek vowel sounds are represented as follows:

- $a = \text{ah}$, $e = \text{eh}$, $i$ or $y = \text{ee}$, $o = \text{oh}$, and $ou = \text{long u}$.

Other consecutive vowels should be pronounced separately, e.g., $\text{zoin}$ would be pronounced $\text{zoh-een}$, not $\text{zoyn}$; $\text{eleison}$ is pronounced $\text{eh-leh-ee-sohn}$.
